CHEDDAR FC 1994-95

Cheddar Football Club is delighted to be hosting tonight's game. This game is only the second that they have played against a team from the Football League and is the end result of a couple of years hard work off the pitch.

It all started with the decision of the committee at the time to go ahead and build a centenary "stand" to celebrate it's 100 years of existence and also to put up floodlights to allow it's under 18 side to join the County Floodlit League. This forward looking decision has caused much heartache (particularly to the club treasurer !!) but was, in hindsight, a very positive move.

If the decision to put the lights up had waited then there may have been planning difficulties, especially as the ground is due to be sited in the middle of Cheddar newest housing area.

At the same time the club's First XI Manager, Tim Richens, started the long process of trying to attract a league team to Bowdens Park to celebrate the Centenary, this involved writing over 100 letters and subsequently receiving nearly 100 apologies. Undeterred he continued to try and persuade clubs to visit, this time to open the new facilities and off went another 100 letters, this time however there was some interest and the final result is tonight's game, as well as the game played in August against Portsmouth.

Cheddar FC is proud to welcome Sheffield Wednesday to their ground and hope that they, as well as all tonight's spectators, enjoy their evening at Bowdens Park, Cheddar.

Cheddar FC would also like to thank Dave Parkin for sponsoring tonight's match. It once again demonstrates the importance of local business in the success of any local club. Again, we hope the sponsor enjoys his evening and look forward to seeing him at our club in the future. Dave has already sponsored our under 18's side and this is yet more commitment that will help the club's development.

Also thanks go to Bristol Water for their sponsorship of the match, along with the numerous local firms that have looked to provide support in other forms of sponsorship (full details can be found at the back of the programme).

ABOUT CHEDDAR F.C.

As you will see Cheddar FC is now 102 years old, having celebrated it's centenary back in 1992. For a club with it's current potential & history, in terms of longevity, the club has not been the major achiever that some other, smaller, local clubs have been. However those who have been part of Cheddar FC since 1892 have a good collection of memories of the club and below we will run through the brief highlights.

The first XI ever to play for Cheddar featured many local names that are found again & again in the club's history - or certainly until travel became easier and more 'outsiders' came to play. That team was - Humphries, Bessant, Jefferies, Pavey, West, Channon, Ham, Carter, Flower, Say, Lukins & Shore (captain).

The club joined the Cheddar Valley League in 1910 as founder members and at the time were playing on the Cricket Ground (sited near the Railway station).

1911 was a bad year as local rivals both get doubles over Cheddar - Axbridge by 2-0 & 3-1 and Draycott by 3-2 and 4-2 (though Draycott played an illegible player, from another county - Bristol !!).

Cheddar joined the Weston & District league in 1925 and a year later moved to a new pitch at Lewis's field (now the Kings of Wessex School fields).

In 1932 Cheddar reached the final of the Somerset Junior Cup, beating Paulton Rovers 4-0 and Weston Super Mare 3-1 along the way, only to lose 4-2 to Welton Rovers in the final.

A year later Cheddar lost 5-1 to local rivals Winscombe after finishing the game with only 6 players as five were carried off injured (no change there - dirty side that Winscombe !!)

There were a lot of 'famous' Cheddar players in this pre war era (legendary within the village some might say). I wonder if any of our elder supporters remember these names:-

Reg Hill "Rottie" was the original hard man of the team, an awesome character who was feared, with good reason, by his opponents. He was suspended for a whole year in 1936 for striking a referee who disagreed with him !!

Percy & Ernest Leigh These two brothers were both mainstays of the team between the wars. Percy was known as "Fanny" because of his dainty skills which mesmerised many defenders. Ernest also had a nickname "Doctor" and was with Bristol City for a time, scored many goals.

Cecil Say A real opportunist with a deadly right foot

Bill Filer "Mr Reliable", never got ruffled

Roy Jennings A talented player who represented the county on many occasions

The period immediately before and after World War 2 was one of much success for Cheddar FC, but the momentum was lost a little by events from 1939-45. That Hitler chap had a lot to answer for !!

However the club did re-join the Cheddar Valley League when it reformed in 1948 and this was a period of continuous success as Cheddar had (according to many of our elder supporters) their strongest ever team. Now, without wishing to be drawn into a debate about football across the generations, it must be said that the club did pick up a lot of silverware at that time.

In 1950 the club won the Twentown Rosebowl, The Charity Cup & The Crease Memorial Cup under the captaincy of Jack Rose. That season only 3 games were lost in all games played, league & cup - a remarkable record, considering the only thing that they didn't win was the league, where they finished runners up.

1952 saw one of Cheddar FC's most important decisions made, they left the 'Hamfield Ground' where they had played since before the War and bought (with the help of the whole village) their current ground at Bowdens Park on the Draycott road.

Having made this decision the club then joined division 2 of the Somerset Senior League, along with many clubs who now play in the Great Mills Western League. The players who made the club just after the War were almost as legendary as those mentioned on the previous page (if time makes legends, does this mean that one day Jack Rodgers will be a legend !!), here are just a few:-

Albert Raisey A classy keeper who also played for Bristol Rovers
Jim Carter A brave keeper, hated losing (ask his defenders !!)
Ernie Bridge & Jim Harris Possibly the best full back pairing seen at the club, both tigerish tacklers who gave many wingers a torrid time
Gordon Beadle Quiet, controlled performances were guaranteed when Gordon played
Wally Poole Big player with tremendous control & turning ability
Keith Pavey "Spider" was very fast & had one of the hardest shots ever seen at Cheddar
Albert Dally A big, strong "no nonsense" defender with good football ability as well
 The late 50's & early 60's summed up much of Cheddar's history — failure to achieve the potential that they had, many fine players represented the club but the trophies were not forthcoming.

There were few successes to talk about during the 1970's but the early 80's saw Cheddar FC take some major steps forward in it's growth.

Off the pitch the Club built it's clubhouse, a small & very homely set up which was the result of a lot of hard work by keen volunteers who still actively support the Club to this day.

On the pitch the club put it's First XI into the Somerset Senior League which allowed the players to play in a higher standard and therefore improve the level of performance.

Since joining the Senior League the team has been promoted on two occasions & in 1990-91 missed going into the Premier Division by just one point (losing the last two games of the season). Also, in 1988-89, they became the first Cheddar First team to win a cup final for 20 years when they defeated local rivals, Street, in Knockout Cup Final at Wells.

The heroes on the night (apart from the team as a whole) were Ian Moulton who saved a penalty to keep the score at 2-1 with only 3 minutes left. Also Kevin Jones who scored the two goals and was probably the most prolific goalscorer in Cheddar's history (averaging over 1.5 goals in all games that he played).

In 1986/87 the club also undertook a major extension of it's clubhouse, increasing it's size to it's current level, incorporating new (temporary) changing rooms and extended bar area and skittle alley.

This season has seen even more development taking place and the latest chapters in the history are the new floodlights that are in place, the new changing block and the news that, for the first time, Cheddar Reserve team had been admitted to the Third Division of the Somerset Senior League.

This is a club that has been latent for too long and the developments of the last 15 years give the feeling that the future is promising both on & off the pitch.

The fact that the club own their ground, soon to be in the middle of a housing estate, gives cause for optimism. Also the club having two Senior League teams plus an under 18 side in the Somerset Floodlit League (playing supposedly superior team) and forging closer links with Cheddar Valley junior teams (with players from ages 6-16) means a rosy future on the pitch looks assured.

We hope you are impressed with what you see at, and know of, Cheddar FC and we would like to thank all those who have been involved in the club's history since 1892.

SUPERSTITIONS IN FOOTBALL

Although the modern game only really dates back some 125 years, it has acquired a complex mythology of its own with its own legends and superstitions. As far back as the first decade of the 20th Century players in the successful Newcastle United side, that dominated the League for several years, were renowned for their belief that they would win if they saw a wedding on their way to a match and they would lose if they caught sight of a funeral taking place.

Many individual players observe their own personal superstitions and carry lucky momentos, or insist on wearing lucky shirts or boots. Some superstitions are plain good sense, such as the one that Arsenal goalkeepers wash new jerseys before playing in them: this dates back to 1927 when Arsenal's keeper, Dan Lewis blamed his slippery new jersey for his failure to save the goal that cost them defeat in the FA Cup Final. Of the most famous modern day superstitions is Paul Ince's, he only puts his shirt on just before he comes onto the pitch.

Managers are not much different, Portsmouth manager sported a pair of lucky white spats during their run to the final, insisting that they were fastened each time by winger Fred Worrall (who fired of this tradition - despite carrying a lucky sixpence and miniature horseshoe on to the pitch himself !!). Again more recently, Jimmy Melia of Brighton wore his lucky shoes during the cup run of 1983 which ended at Wembley.

Some grounds have been credited with lucky or unlucky reputations, such as Derby's cursed and Wembley stadium, which acquired its reputation after a series of crucial injuries in Cup Finals, the most famous being the broken neck that was sustained by Bert Trautmann of Manchester City in 1956.

Abroad is where superstition really counts. The national side of El Salvador had to contend with the influence of a witch doctor when they met Haiti for the second of two qualifying games in the 1970 World Cup. In the first game, the witch doctor sprinkled a mysterious powder on the pitch, muttered an incantation and Haiti won the game 3-0. In the return, the El Salvador coach took no chances and punched the witch doctor to the ground as soon as he arrived, putting him out of the game, this obviously worked, because El Salvador won the game 1-0 and qualified.

ABOUT SHEFFIELD WEDNESDAY

The Club

Nickname – The Owls
Ground – Hillsborough
 Wednesday are amongst the oldest surviving league clubs and can claim descent from Sheffield Wednesday Cricket Club (so-called because the players met on Wednesday half-holidays) that was formed in 1816.
 The football club was founded at the Adelphi public house in 1867 and subsequently used a number of grounds – notably the Olive Grove (1887-99) – before settling in 1899 at Owlerton (renamed Hillsborough in 1914).
 Having joined the league in 1892, the club quickly established themselves as one of the leading teams, causing several upsets in the FA Cup and finally winning the trophy in 1896 (with further wins in 1907 and 1935). They won the First Division championship for the first time in 1903, and a year later successfully defended the title; they won it again in 1929 and 1930 (they have also won the Second Division title five times).
 Wednesday's fortunes have fallen off a little since the 1920's, when the side, that included such players as striker Jimmy Seed, winger Ellis Rimmer, and full-back Emie Blenkinsop, was considered the best the club has ever produced.
 The lowest point of all came in the 1970's when Wednesday (whose reputation had already been tarnished by a bribes scandal involving several of their leading players) were demoted to the Third Division for the first time. The relegation shook the club's fans, of whom one of the most bitter was Ken Wood: unable to face the prospect of seeing the Owls playing the likes of Southend and Halifax, he decided to emigrate.

A year later the side avoided relegation to the Fourth Division by a single point. Another disgruntled fan was Bob Montgomery who attempted (unsuccessfully) to take the club to court for their uninspiring performance in an FA Cup replay in 1983. Montgomery's argument ran that the game Wednesday had played was so bad it was not football and thus an offence under the Trades Description Act, the club having obtained his entrance money (which he demanded be given back to him) under false pretences!!

By the mid-80's, however, the team was back on form and in 1991 was able to celebrate the winning of the League Cup. The 1992-93 season promised even better things, with the team reaching the final of both the League Cup and the FA Cup – but ended with defeat in both finals against Arsenal.

Post war stars have numbered among them Derek Dooley, top scorer in the league in 1952-53 whose brief career ended with the loss of a leg after an accident on the pitch the following season, goalkeeper Ron Springett in the 1960's (eventually exchanged with Queens Park Rangers for his brother, Peter), and managers Harry Catterick, Jack Charlton, Howard Wilkinson, Ron Atkinson & Trevor Francis. Probably their most famous current fan is ex-Labour Party Deputy Leader, Roy Hattersley.

The side enjoyed their record victory to date back in 1891, when they beat Halliwell 12-0; their worst defeat was in 1912, when they were defeated 10-0 by Aston Villa.

The Manager

Trevor Francis was a forward who earned the nickname 'Superboy' as one of the most precocious young footballing talents of the early 1970's.

Having made his debut for Birmingham City at the age of 16 (scoring 15 goals in his first 15 games), Francis subsequently established himself as one of the most effective strikers of his day, playing for Nottingham Forest (who became the first British club to pay £1,000,000 for a player), Manchester City, Sampdoria, Atlanta, Rangers, QPR as well as team in the NASL. He also won 52 full England Caps.
